MAC K HAS FIGHTING CHANCE TO RECOVER

Man Who Sent a Bullet
Through Brain After Wounding Wife Lingers.

WOMAN IS RECOVERING

Hand of Mrs. Mack Powder-
Burned as She Struggled With Husband.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—Although his condition has changed but little during the day, the attending physicians are inclined to regard as an improvement the fact that Glen H. Mack, who last night shot and wounded his wife and then attempted suicide, is still alive tonight, having survived the first twenty-four hours after a 38-caliber bullet passed entirely through his head on a line with the eyes. With one chance in a thousand for recovery, his case is regarded by physicians as most remarkable.

According to Dr. S. W. Hudson, who together with Dr. H. S. Joyce, was in almost constant attendance upon Mr. and Mrs. Mack at the Dec Memorial hospital during the twenty-four hours the wife is out of danger, her injuries being scarcely more than flesh wounds. The nervous condition resulting from the shock of the tragedy is regarded as being quite as serious as the wounds she received.

May Die Any Moment.
"Mr. Mack's condition is such that a thorough examination cannot be made just now," said Dr. Hudson this evening. "and death may result almost any moment, the greatest danger being meningitis. While his condition has not changed much during the day, the fact that he is still alive would indicate some slight improvement. It would seem as nearly as can be ascertained at present that the bullet severed the optic nerves, and it is the case he will be totally blind should it chance that he recovers."

It was thought last night that the bullet had penetrated the brain, and further examination has disclosed that the muzzle of the revolver was placed at the top of the cheek bone and sufficient force was used to penetrate the brain. This being the case, according to the physicians, the bullet passed through the head on a line about level with the eyes and passed out at the left side of the head at a point corresponding to that at which it entered. The patient has never been entirely unconscious today. There were times when he seemed half rational, uttering unintelligible answers to questions which were asked by the attendants.

Although conscious throughout the day, the physicians would not permit Mrs. Mack to talk to the tragedy of last night, when she was shot down in the street as she ran toward the home of her father-in-law, James Mack, to assist her husband. When told of the condition of her husband, Mrs. Mack expressed a wish that he would not suffer from the injury which was self-inflicted during his frenzy. She was not permitted to discuss, even with her immediate relatives, the details which led up to the shooting.

Fought for Life.

It developed, however, that the injury to her right hand was not caused by a bullet alone, but by the fire from the revolver as she clutched the weapon in her hand. According to information received by the relatives today from Miss Elizabeth Brown, the domestic employed at the Mack home, Mack caught his wife before she had proceeded more than fifty feet from her own gate. The revolver pressed against her head, she grasped the weapon in time to prevent the bullet from entering her brain. It was then that she sustained the powder burns on her right hand. After this narrow escape she broke from her husband's grasp and ran toward the home of the senior Mack, only to be felled by the bullet which produced a scalp wound on the right side of her head and severed a small portion of the ear.

That the oldest of the three children in the house at the time of the tragedy realized the nature of the domestic tragedy is indicated by the fact that he pleaded with his father not to kill himself after the parent had been informed of the supposed death of the wife and mother. Sufficiently rational to realize somewhat the effect of the scene upon the two children, who were still awake, Mack stopped

DIABETES

It was not easy for us to believe that diabetes is curable, but the first case we came in personal touch with was astonishingly convincing.

We were considering the purchase of Fulton's Compound and were looking for cases to try them out on. One of our number knew Charles Newton, the yardmaster of the S. P. R. Co., who was a very worthy man. He also knew that Newton had diabetes and was in a hospital in the Capitol City, and that his recovery seemed impossible when he last heard from him. A letter was written to Newton that Fulton claimed his Diabetes Compound cured diabetes, and that we wanted to know from OUR friends if this was so, and that if he (Newton) would take it today, we would send him a supply of it. Newton replied to the effect that some four or five months before we wrote him he had heard about the compound, had taken it, and that the sugar was nearly out and he was almost well. His complete recovery followed, and he told an S. P. Engineer who had diabetes and he recovered.

(The best results are had in cases of middle age and over.)

Fulton's Diabetes Compound can be had at Schramm-Johnson Drug Co. Ask for pamphlet or write Jno. J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. We desire patients to write us not imitating by third week.

GIRL LOSES REASON AND ATTACKS MOTHER

Taint of Insanity, Presumably Inherited, Wrecks Mind of Tender Years.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—As the result of a vicious attack upon her aged mother, Dolphina Kruttsch, aged 16 years and residing on East Seventh Street, was arraigned before an examining board and adjudged insane by Judge J. A. Howell this afternoon. The medical examiners were Drs. Paul Ingvaldsen and A. A. Robinson. The girl was committed to the State Mental hospital at Provo. Deputy Sheriff George Leatham departed with the girl for that city this afternoon.

It is supposed that Miss Kruttsch is a victim of hereditary insanity, her mother having been in the same mental hospital for the past several years. The girl, who has been employed at the factory of the Shupe-Williams Candy company, has exhibited indications of her rapidly falling mentality for the past six months, but continued to work at her job, and was paid for this work some $1 per week and this provided the principal means of support for the aged mother, a 14-year-old son and the girl herself.

During the past few weeks it has been necessary several times for police officers to accompany the girl to her home, she apparently being unable to find the way herself. Last night, while Mrs. Kruttsch was preparing the evening meal, the girl attacked her mother, choking her and attempting to tear out her hair. The neighbors who went to the rescue of the woman found the girl covering her face with her hands, and she was taken to the county jail, where she was closely watched throughout the night to prevent her making good the threat to kill herself.

Because of the serious condition of the patient, Judge Howell consented to hold the examination today.

SPEND CHRISTMAS AT HOME.

Hundred Pupils of Deaf and Blind School
Visit Relatives.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—One hundred and eight of the students at the Utah school for the deaf and blind have left to spend the Christmas holidays with their relatives. Only thirty-one children are left at the school, but they will not be deprived of the usual Christmas cheer because of their inability to spend the holidays with relatives and friends.

The Christmas exercises for the students remaining at the school will be held on Tuesday evening. There will be a program, together with a social hour and refreshments. The students are to be given a second treat on Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Ralph E. Bristol will give a Christmas party for the afflicted children at her home, corner of Tenth and Van Buren streets. There will be a Christmas tree and presents for all of the little guests.

Tenacious of Life.

The fight for life which Mack is now making against seemingly overwhelming odds is said to correspond with his remarkable recovery of three years ago, when he was slashed across the throat and abdomen with a knife in the hands of a man named Jackson. This trouble also had its inception in a Washington avenue saloon, and Mack still retains the scars resulting from the attack which nearly took his life. For many months past Mack has been provided with employment as a packer at one of the rolling mills provided over by his father.

PAY LOVING TRIBUTE.

Faculty and Pupils of Sacred Heart Feel
Loss of Flora Vivian Webb.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—Funeral services for Miss Flora Vivian Webb, the 16-year-old girl who died at the Dec Memorial hospital during the night of the 21st, were held in the First Congregational church at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Frank G. Brainerd officiated. Mrs. W. G. Brainerd sang two solos. Eight girls, classmates of Miss Webb at the Sacred Heart academy, were pallbearers.

For five years Miss Webb had been a student at the academy, and the following tribute from the faculty and students testified to the regret which is felt by all over the sad parting:

When the Christmas joy seemed to fill all hearts and bright anticipations of merry gatherings cheered the even sometimes despondent, there came away from earth and its grim shadows a gentle soul that always seemed more akin to heaven than earth. For five years Vivian Webb had been a pupil of Sacred Heart academy, which she entered herself to teach, and companions by her amiable, sweet, unobtrusive ways. Coming to the institution when but 11 years of age, she felt but one regret, the parting from a good, kind father, whose heart today is saddened by her loss. How unceasingly she watched for her beside during the long weeks of her lingering illness, those in attendance at the hospital can testify. Now that God in His wisdom has decreed that the lonely father shall live in the home of an eternal reunion, we feel sure that one of his sweetest consolations is the memory of dear Vivian's obedient, trusting life.

Burglars Rob Store.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—By breaking the glass in a rear window, thieves, supposed to have been boys, gained an entrance to the Union grocery store, 225 Washington avenue, some time last night and obtained a generous supply of Christmas goods, together with other articles of a total value of $20. The burglary was not discovered until a member of the firm opened the store about 11 o'clock today. C. E. Child, C. A. Shaw and J. H. Bishop are proprietors of the store. Detective Charles Pincock made an investigation, but found no clue.

M. A. CHILD DIES.

Well-Known Stockman Succumbs After Seven Weeks' Illness.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—M. A. Child, a prominent stockman and son of Bishop W. W. Child, died at his home in that village at 9 o'clock this morning after an illness of about seven weeks. Although he had suffered from kidney trouble and complications for that length of time, he had been confined to his bed for only a week prior to his death. Because of his extensive dealings in livestock, Mr. Child was known throughout Weber county and also in other sections of the state.

Born at Hooper on February 7, 1857, Mr. Child was 55 years of age and had spent his entire life in this county. He is survived by a widow, who was formerly Miss Emma Simpson of Ogden; six sons and two daughters. Other surviving relatives are the parents, five sisters and two brothers.

TALKS ON CHRISTMAS.

Professor Levi Edgar Young Addresses
Industrial School Pupils.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—Professor Levi Edgar Young of the University of Utah was the principal speaker at the Christmas talks held at the Utah Industrial school today. The special services, which were conducted during the regular Sunday school hour, were also intended as a farewell to the students who will spend Christmas at their homes.

In addition to an excellent address by the principal, who talked on the subject of the real Christmas spirit, there were vocal and instrumental selections by the High school, the Taggart brothers' quartette and Miss Rachel Farley. The girls' chorus, composed of students at the school, also rendered several selections. At the conclusion of the service each student was presented with a box of candy.

Stake Presidency Conducts Meeting at Weber Academy.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—Every organization of the Ogden stake was represented by its officers or members at the praise service held under the auspices of the stake presidency at the Weber academy auditorium this afternoon. There were more than 200 present. The meeting was held for the purpose of commemorating Christmas and the anniversary of the birth of Joseph Smith, the founder of the Mormon faith. The principal address of the afternoon was delivered by B. R. Roberts of Salt Lake, who selected for his subject "Christ the Redeemer." The musical programme included vocal and instrumental selections by Miss Elsie Shorten, Mrs. Agnes Garner, Ernest Osborn and Miss Sabat Shorten.

Autos by Trainloads.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—Seventy-five carloads of automobiles from a factory in Lansing, Mich., and coming by two solid trains, passed through this city over the Pacific this evening en route to San Francisco. Each freight car contained from four to eight automobiles. The assignment totaling more than 400 motor cars. The trains will be operated solid to San Francisco, all of the automobiles being consigned to Pacific coast points.

Cold in Wyoming.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—Union Pacific train crews arriving in this city today report extreme cold weather, but very little snow, throughout Wyoming. At Washatch, sixty-four miles east of Ogden, it is in degrees below zero last night. The weather so far has interfered very little with the operation of trains on nearly schedule time.

Tiny Babe Dies.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Klomp of Wilson lane died at 10 o'clock this forenoon. In spite of the fact that the child weighed less than one and a half pounds at birth, she appeared to be developed normally and apparently had good chances for life. The baby lived only thirty-six hours.

Holiday Traffic Heavy.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 22.—For the first time this season it was found necessary today to operate No. 9, the westbound fast mail train on the Pacific, in two sections. The volume of mail and express reached a point today which has not been exceeded this year. This condition will prevail for the next three days at least.

PARACHUTE FOR THE USE OF THE ARMEN

P. A. R. Dec. 22.—An ingenious automatic parachute for aeroplanes was demonstrated from the Eiffel tower today. The contrivance, which consists of a vast umbrella, forty feet in diameter, has a system of springs operating instantaneously and automatically when the fall begins. The parachute was dropped today from the first platform of the tower with a sand bag to represent an aviator. The apparatus opened fully before it had fallen sixty feet. It landed gently, taking sixteen seconds to drop 190 feet.

father, whose word to her was law and whose will was an obligation. If she was to be a daughter, she must do things but memory, and that nothing can change, then through the many hours that in future this dear father must spend alone, a bright beam will guide his eyes to that home where his child awaits him in the eternal re-

JOINT CELEBRATION

PLAN FINDS FAVOR

All Classes of Englishmen
Want to Join Hands With United States.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—Few public movements in England have enlisted the approval and support of so large a number of prominent men as the plan for a joint international celebration of the one-hundredth anniversary of peace among English-speaking people.

The meeting at the Mansion house in London Wednesday over which Earl Grey, former governor general of Canada, presided, was the first public announcement of the project on this side of the Atlantic. The list of vice presidents embraces one hundred names. Mr. Asquith, the prime minister, Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, and eleven other members of the cabinet lead the list, followed by the principal members of the Conservative ministry, Mr. Bonar Law, the leader of the Unionist party, and J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor party.

The church is represented by the archbishop of Canterbury, Cardinal Bourne, the bishop of London, the heads of the various non-conformist Protestant bodies, and bishops of the Church of England, science and art by the chairmen of the university, the heads of royal societies and various other important personalities in these domains.

One of the projects of the English committee is the purchase of Sulgrave manor, the old home of the Washington family, which still is in a good preservation. It is hoped also to place a bust of George Washington in Westminster abbey. Harry Brittain, who is secretary of the English branch of the Pilgrims' club and a member of the executive committee for the peace centenary, will visit the United States and make arrangements with the over-seas organizations for the joint celebration which will begin late in 1914.
